Tur NATIONAL ELECTION .- The political contest which hast Tuesday enlminated in the election of U.S. Grant and Schuyler Colfax as President and Vice President of the United States for the term of four years from March 4. 1869, has been one of little excitement compared with many previous elections. The election of the Republican caulidates, from the , little interest taken by numbers of the opposing party, seemed to prove that they conceded the election of Grant to be a foregone conclusion, while some who kept a stiff upper lip and were confident that Seymonr and Blair evere to triumph in the contest, accept their defent with a good grace. The new President will come into power in a time when great judgement and suparior wisdon will be required to settle the vexed questions which now ngitate the hand, and from the ability displayed by him in the war, the people will expect liko swults in his career as chief ruler of POLITICAL CONGRATULATIONS .-- The Tanuers Battailion headquarters in this place were kept open until 3 A. M. Wednesday, for the exchange of congratulations and reception of despatches aunonucing returns of the election. The hall was handsomely decorated by J. R. H. Williams, and the building outside hung with Chineso lanterus. The battalions from East and South Weymouth, with Stetson's Weymouth Hand, paraded early in the evening, and marched to the residence of James Humphrey, Esq., representative elect, their route being uninated at various points. After a abort address by Mr. Humphrey, they continued the march to the Landing, where they were received by Battalion No. 1, and escorted to Lincoln Hall, where a collation was served. The announcements of returns were received with much enthusiasm by the crowd which filled the hall, and the inspiriting remarks of various speakers and good nausie by the hard, aided is making the evening her residence, one day last week, when Butes of Braintree, one of a lively character. A young Irish servant-girl, comin from Albuny recently in one of the night steamers, had the ill-luck to lose the recommendation which had been given her on leaving her last place. An Irist man, learning the cause of her distress and being able to write, gave her th following, which she presented to a friend of ours:- This is to say that katy brien had a good character when she left alberny, but she lost it on board the vessel ceming down from alberny.

MANY years ago a small Connecticut parish endertook to build a meetinghouse. They went so far as to get up without the trouble of going to Buston or N the frame and cover it with heards ponset to have it done. Then, for want of money and want of harmony, the enterprise stood still. The elements then assuiled the uninished structure, which, in the coursa of a few years, rotted down. By this time the people had come to their senses and set out in earnest to have another house Ruisings then were great occasions. All the men assembled to put up the tunders -all the women were there to see them do it. At the conclusion of the work it was common to sing a p-alm. the lines, für want of books, being usually desconed off. This office, at the time referred to, was assigned to Presidant Edward's witty son Piorpont, who happened to be present. He logan as
